Overview of USF Libraries, Mission, and Program/Discipline Strengths
The University of South Florida is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award degrees at the baccalaureate, masters, specialist, and doctoral levels, including the Doctor of Medicine. The institution was initially accredited in 1965 and was last reviewed and reaffirmed in 2005. The institution is scheduled to receive its next reaffirmation of accreditation review in 2015.

The University of South Florida Libraries consist of USF's main research library, located on the Tampa Campus; two special libraries, the Hinks and Elaine Shimberg Health Sciences Library and the Louis de la Parte Mental Health Institute Library, which are also located on the Tampa Campus; the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library, USF St. Petersburg; and the Jane Bancroft Cook Library, USF Sarasota-Manatee.

Our vision is to become a globally recognized academic library system advancing knowledge through integrated resources, responsive services, research, and instruction. Together, the USF Libraries provide access to more than 2 million volumes and an extensive collection of electronic resources including approximately 6,500 e-journal subscriptions and 800 aggregator databases containing another 53,000 unique e-journal titles, 443,000 e-books, and 826,000 digital images. In addition, students have access to over 45,000 audio/visual materials including videos, CDs, and DVDs.

In addition to extensive electronic and print resources, the USF Libraries offer unique access to primary research materials through the Special and Digitized Collections Department. Specializations include: Holocaust & Genocide Studies, Science Fiction, Oral Histories, Florida Studies, Sacred Leaves medieval manuscripts, literature and book arts, children and young adult literature, sheet music, and rare books.

The library endeavors to develop and maintain a research collection that satisfies the resource needs of the undergraduate curriculums in all of the subject disciplines and also meets the specialized needs of the graduate students and faculty for advanced research materials.

The School of Mass Communications currently offers a single graduate degree, a Master of Arts in Mass Communications, which provides two study tracks, Media Studies and Strategic Communication Management. The media studies track concentrates on mass communication theory, public opinion, research methods, sports & media, women & media, and visual communication. The strategic communication management track integrates public relations, advertising and marketing communication into a single focus.

The USF Tampa Library has been supporting the Master of Arts in Mass Communication degree program by actively collecting resources in the following subject areas: advertising methodology/psychology, comparative media studies, international advertising, international media, mass media and society, media ethics, media law, media history, digital media, visual communication, e-commerce, entrepreneurship, public relations management and theory, sports & media, and women & media.

The USF Tampa Library has also been actively collecting resources for the entire College of Business, which includes the Marketing Department. The proposed Master's Degree in Advertising will be a collaborative effort between the School of Mass Communications in the College of Arts & Sciences and the Marketing Department in the College of Business.
USF Libraries Collections

Emphasis is on acquiring and maintaining a robust collection of electronic journals and in developing a strong research monographic eBook collection representing the important trade, university and professional presses. An extensive eBook collection stretches the library’s expendable budget and gives faculty and graduate students access to the most recent research materials that are available – from anywhere, at any time. USF faculty and students have access to research materials not available on the Tampa campus through the Library’s Interlibrary Loan and Document Delivery services.

The library collects current research materials in all subject areas within the Library of Congress subject classifications relating to the mass communications, advertising, marketing, and telecommunications. Books in these areas are generally shelved in the H, P, and T Library of Congress (LC) call number ranges.

Library of Congress call number areas for these subject areas include:

- Advertising HE8662-HE8700.95
  HF5801-HF6182
- Marketing HF5410-HF5800
- Mass Communications P96-P98, PN1990-PN1992
  PN4699-PN5660
- Telecommunications TK51.01-TK5104, TK6540-TK6571
  TK6630-TK6571

The following is a brief summary of the USF Tampa Library’s collections in these subject areas:

- Number of Books in Advertising, Marketing, Mass Communications, & Telecommunications
  - Print 26,614
  - Electronic 6,412

  eBook Collections include: Oxford Scholarship Online: Business and Management; Palgrave Connect: Business & Management; Palgrave Connect: Media & Culture; Springer eBooks in Business & Economics, eBook Collection; and Gale Virtual Library.

- Number of Journals in Advertising, Marketing, Mass Communications, & Telecommunications
  - Print 1,435
  - Electronic 1,143

  Notable online journals, owned by the USF Libraries, include:
  Titles collected by the USF Libraries also represent those that are highest rated in their respective research fields. For example, the USF Tampa Library provides electronic access to 15 of the 20 highest rated (ISI impact factor) journals in marketing and advertising. These ratings do not always represent true journal value, but the USF Tampa Library seeks to obtain virtually all statistically important journal titles.

The USF Libraries also have subscriptions to almost all other major databases in the social sciences and business, including several comprehensive eJournal and eBook packages, the ISI Web of Science database (which includes the Social Sciences Citation Index and the Journal Citation Reports). Use of all of these resources is extremely high, which helps to justify the spending for research level resources in business, marketing, and mass communications. The USF Libraries pay over $6 million annually for resources and also leverage consortial buying with good negotiations and packaging of resources to ensure maximum product per research dollar.

Datasets
WRDS – The Wharton Research Data Service is the de facto standard for business data, providing researchers worldwide with instant access to financial, economic, and marketing data though a uniform, web-based interface. Current Subscriptions include: AuditAnalytics; Bank Regulatory;
Clendinen Virtual Reading Room

The Clendinen Virtual Reading Room was named in honor of the late James A. Clendinen, former editor of the Tampa Tribune. The Clendinen Virtual Reading Room provides a gateway to open access resources and to proprietary databases related to the study of mass communications. Access to the databases is restricted to University of South Florida faculty, students and staff. The Virtual Reading Room was created and is maintained by the USF Libraries as a resource center for the USF School of Mass Communications. It serves as a complement to the physical reading room located in the Communication and Information Sciences building on the USF Tampa Campus.

Summary Statement

In any given year, the USF Libraries materials budget is pushed to its limit. The rising cost of continuing journal subscriptions, the need for new research materials, and requests for access to online data sets are part of the daily landscape. A large portion of the USF Libraries’ 6.3 million budget supports the continuation of the electronic resources. The subject disciplines of business, mass communications, advertising, and telecommunications are well represented throughout the USF Libraries electronic collections.

Recognizing the value and importance of research and teaching within the academic disciplines of Mass Communications, Advertising, Business, and Marketing, the USF Libraries will continue a sustained level of support for these subjects. In the next five years, the expectation would be for a continued level of support for these disciplines. Annual increases of 3-6% are anticipated, with typical annual increases of 3-6%. The acquisition of additional resources would have to be balanced against the research needs of other academic disciplines on campus within the confines of any budgetary restraints that the library could face during the next five years.

Sincerely,

Cheryl McCoy, Coordinator of Collections, USF Tampa Library

As of July 2012, the collections of the USF Tampa Library and affiliates are sufficient to support the Master’s Degree of Advertising, which will be a collaborative effort between the School of Mass Communications in the College of Arts & Sciences and the Marketing Department in the College of Business. Sustained annual investments to maintain the recurring elements of this collection and to purchase newly published materials are required to preserve sufficiency. With escalating costs, typical annual increases of 3-6% are likely. Strategic investments are required as new faculty are hired and areas of emphasis evolve.
